

ASCO is committed to supporting its State/Regional Affiliates, and encourages its members to become engaged in local activities by joining their state oncology society. Strong state societies are a vital component to effective advocacy and a critical resource for addressing issues of concern to the cancer community.

The State Affiliate Council serves as an advisory group to ASCO's Board of Directors on issues relating to ASCO's State and Regional Affiliates and their members. The Council collaborates with and supports effective communications between the ASCO Board and ASCO's domestic membership.
